DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent #5,375,384 to WOLFSON. WOLFSON discloses the use of a shear panel (P) including an upper edge (U); a lower edge (L) secured to a sill (B); two side edges (SE); a plurality of vertically extending posts (P) fully extending between the lower (L) and upper (U) edges and having aligned transverse holes (20) there through, column 4, lines 60-61; two side plates (18) securing the support posts (P) together into a solid unit with a plurality of connecting bolts (22), see below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent #5,375,384 to WOLFSON. WOLFSON discloses a method of supporting a building including the use of a horizontal overhead support (U) above a base support (B), a shear panel (P) having a plurality of posts each with a plurality of transverse holes (20); a pair of side panels (18); and a plurality of connecting bolts (22) and nuts (24); wherein, the method includes aligning the holes (22); positioning the side panels (18); extending the bolts (22) there through; securing the posts (P) and side panels (18) to the base (B) and overhead support (U), see above. WOLFSON discloses the basic claimed method except for the step of including a sheathing there across. The use of external sheathing is old and very well known in the art. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the structure and method of WOLFSON with a sheathing in order to protect the supporting members from the external environment while also protecting inhabitants of the building form the same.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-5 and 7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
